Institut für Alles Mögliche Grundstück

This is the Institut's 57th space, located in the middle of nowhere near the Mediterranean Sea in Slovenia.

The idea of this residency program:

- a timeout from daily life
- spending time together without a predefined outcome
- encountering people and new perspectives

What we offer:

- a patch of grass to park a car or pitch a tent
- basic infrastructure for cooking and washing dishes
- a simple and shared shower and toilet
- a shared power outlet for charging phones or laptops

What we ask for:

- each participant is encouraged to offer one individual contribution during the residency week related to their artistic practice (a workshop, presentation, talk, listening or reading session, or similar ...)
- arrangements and costs for collective trips, shared meals, and similar activities are negotiated as a group
- respect all creatures around you and take responsibility for your actions

For any questions send us an e-mail ...

Specialties to know about this place:

- summers can be extremely hot (sometimes up to 40°C); lighting fires, smoking, barbecuing, or similar activities may be dangerous!
- it may rain for several days at a time
- many other creatures live here: ants, ticks, mosquitoes, grasshoppers, snakes, scorpions, lizards, butterflies, deer, dogs, ... we consider ourselves guests in their community
- the facilities we offer are very basic
- the nearest grocery store is a 15-minute car drive away
- the closest larger city (Trieste), as well as the train station, bus station, and airport, is a 30-45-minute car drive away
- the location's address cannot be shared publicly
